The UNESCO Portal on Higher Education Institutions

This portal offers access to on-line information on higher education institutions recognized or otherwise sanctioned by competent authorities in participating countries.

It provides students, employers and other interested parties with access to authoritative and up-to-date information on the status of higher education institutions and quality assurance in these countries.

Currently, information can be accessed on the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Canada, China, Egypt, Jamaica, Japan, Kenya, Malaysia, Nigeria, Norway, United Kingdom, and the United States of America. In the next stage of the project, the number of countries covered will be expanded.

The country information on this portal is managed and updated by relevant authorities in participating countries. More information on the national processes for recognizing or otherwise sanctioning institutions is available on the country pages.

Users are encouraged to consult several sources of information before making important decisions regarding matters such as the choice of an institution, course of study or the status of qualifications. Individuals wishing to have their qualifications recognized for work or further study are advised to consult the competent authorities of the country in which they are seeking to have their qualifications recognised. It is also important to note that some institutions not on the national lists may offer quality programmes. Users are encouraged to contact the national contact point(s) for each country, if necessary, for further information.

What is the Portal on Higher Education Institutions?

- This Portal is a follow up to the UNESCO/OECD Guidelines for Quality Provision in Cross-border Higher Education.
- It targets students, employers, and other interested parties (e.g. credential evaluators).
- It aims to provide students, employers and other interested parties with access to authoritative and up-to-date information on the status of HEIs and QA in participating countries.

Country Information on the Portal

The screenshot shows the UNESCO Portal on Higher Education Institutions for China. The page is titled "UNESCO Portal on Higher Education Institutions" and is for the country of China. It features a navigation menu with categories like Education, Natural Sciences, Social & Human Sciences, Culture, and Communication & Information. The main content area is divided into sections: "List of Countries" (with a dropdown menu set to "China"), "Project", "Resources", and "Themes". The "Project" section includes links for "About us" and "Resources". The "Resources" section includes links for "Study Abroad" and "Guidelines Cross-border Higher Education". The "Themes" section includes links for "Higher Education and ICTs", "Quality Assurance and Recognition", and "Cross-Border Higher Education". The main content area for China includes a list of links for institutions, programmes, and information for students. It also provides information on the national focal point, Mr. Che Weimin, and the definition of a "Recognized Higher Education Institution" in China. The page is in English and Chinese.

BEWARE

DEGREE MILLS & BOGUS COLLEGES

Bogus Institutions misusing UNESCO's name

- All levels of abuse and use. The claims may range from 100% false to not quite untrue
- A multitude of modes:
 - all modes are about establishing a false connection or emphasizing a real link with UNESCO to give the impression of being an internationally recognized provider of higher education
 - One institution may use 1-3 different modes
 - Institutions change rapidly

Degree Mills

WHAT

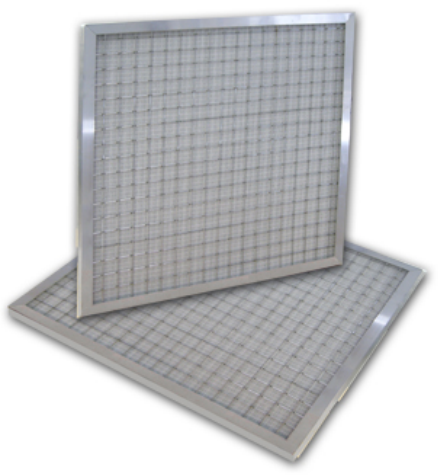

CRIME?

“A degree mill offers a credential purely in exchange for payment and nothing else”

Detecting Degree Mills

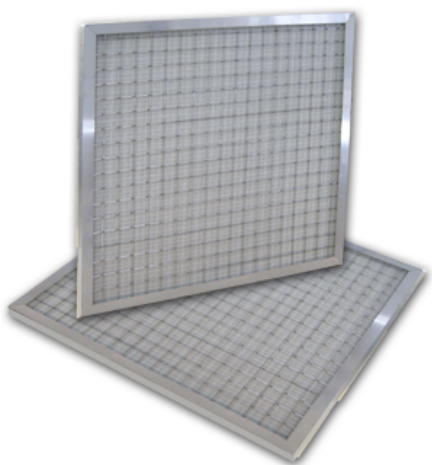

Filter Statements

- Does not have legal authority to award degrees in its home jurisdiction.
- Requires little attendance, either in classrooms or online.
- Requires little, if any, coursework or assignments.
- Limits its contact information to a phone number or an e-mail address.
- Makes false claims about external quality assurance or accreditation.

Detecting Degree Mills

Filter Statements

- Issues degrees that are not accepted for licensing or graduate admission in the home jurisdiction.
- Does not provide verifiable faculty lists, or lists faculty with credentials from degree mills.
- Features websites that copy or imitate material from legitimate organisations.
- Have websites with internet domain registration obscured by a privacy service.
